About Berkshire

For over 40 years, Berkshire has been a global leader in the engineering and manufacturing of products that maintain cleanrooms and controlled environments more effectively and reliably than other alternatives. With manufacturing and sales operations on four continents, we have the capabilities to meet your smallest and largest demands... no matter where you're located.

Whether you are in the biomedical device, pharmaceutical/biotechnology, semiconductor, optics, microelectronics or sterile pharmaceutical compounding industries, Berkshire is committed to offering you products with performance characteristics that minimize the risk of working in your cleanrooms.

At Berkshire, manufacturing and providing the most advanced contamination control products is all we do. That's why we've been able to make such a difference for our customers; we're focused on making your processes better, as well as our own.
